

My name is Wenhao He and I come from Lanzhou, a city in the northwest of China, which has been a stop on the Eastern Silk Road for thousands of years. Surrounded by towering mountains, Lanzhou is a green city on the Yellow River.

I am currently studying Fine Arts at the Academy of Fine Arts Karlsruhe in the class of Markus Schinwald. In July 2024 summer semester I completed my diploma program and then complete an additional year to become a master student.

In my artistic practice I am currently working on the influence of Philosophical Psychology Children's Drawings on People and CoBrA artist movement.

For my work, I would like to present a series that began last year and continues to today. In this series I explore the influence of children's drawings, fables, social relationships had on me in the beginning and why I painted them. My choice of painting tools deliberately includes those that I remember from my childhood. My first contact with painting, as for many, was through the intuitive use of colored and felt-tip pens, which I use as the basis for this series in order to recreate the former to explore the former impartiality of the childhood painting process.
